

AIMPE

Australian Institute of Marine and Power Engineers
HEAD OFFICE

Union Organiser

The Australian Institute of Marine and Power Engineers (AIMPE) seeks applications from individuals interested in employment as a National Union Organiser based in our Queensland Office in Bowen Hills, Brisbane.

This is a full-time position.

The role includes the following duties:

- Recruitment of new members and communicating with existing members;
- Intrastate workplace visits in Queensland Ports required;
- Handling and reporting of member inquiries and grievances;
- Assisting delegates and training delegates;
- Assisting Senior Organisers with collective agreements and industrial disputes;
- Negotiating enterprise agreements where appropriate;
- Assisting Honorary officials; and
- Reporting to Federal Secretary and Federal Executive and writing articles & digital posts for our Union journal, website and social media.

The successful applicant will be an energetic and enthusiastic person who is self-motivated and prepared to meet a wide range of challenges.

- Demonstrated commitment to the trade union movement.
- Well-developed written, digital, and verbal communication skills are required

Applications are particularly encouraged from people with the following backgrounds:

- Previous experience in a trade union recruitment position.
- Industrial Relations experience.
- Current industry Marine Engineers

Essential requirements:

- Applicants will need to possess or obtain a Maritime Security Identification Card.
- Applicants are also required to possess or obtain a Right of Entry Permit from the Fair Work Commission.
- Hold a current valid Australian driver's licence.
- Be an Australian citizen or permanent resident of Australia or NZ.

52 Buckingham Street, Surry Hills, N.S.W. 2010
Telephone: +61 2 9319 5569
www.aimpe.asn.au

- Up to date Covid vaccination to enable access to ships and other workplaces with access restrictions.

Desirable

- Degree in Employment and Labour Relations or Human Relations equivalent;
- Training qualifications and experience; and
- Digital media skills.

An attractive remuneration package will be offered to the successful candidate with above industry superannuation rates and health care allowances.

The role reports directly to the Federal Secretary.

Applications must include a Cover letter, Resume, and responses to the following three questions, all must be emailed and received by Friday 15th December 2024.

1. What has been your educational journey and do you have ambitions for further learning?
2. How would you encourage a potential member to join the AIMPE?
3. What social media strategies would you use if you are appointed to this position?

Applications with supporting documents to be sent to:

Mr. Martin Byrne
Federal Secretary
AIMPE
mbyrne@aimpe.asn.au